

WAVE OF LIFE EXTENSION SCHOOLS AND SEMINARS FACULTY BIOGRAPHIES

Jim Anderson

Fifteen years ago, Jim founded Lifeline Ministries International, which he presently directs. For the last eight years he has traveled in the US and internationally ministering in Russia, Belarus, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Slovakia, Serbia, Bulgaria, Romania, Ukraine, Holland, Switzerland, and South Africa. Jim authored "The Heart of a Woman, Daughter, Flower, Princess," a book which has been printed in four languages, English, Russian, Bulgarian and Romanian. His second book, "Daughter's Under Siege: Exposing the Cultural Sexual Assault Against Women, and the Biblical Restoration of Manhood," is currently being written. His teaching and preaching ministry is expressed in a revival context, with a strong emphasis on impartation and releasing revelation in the delicate and misunderstood areas of sexuality and healing of identity. Much of the ministry is directed to the healing and restoration of men and women who have been hurt in relationships, especially in the area of sexuality. He and his wife Lisa have been married 26 years and have 8 children.

Tom and Suzie Brock

Tom and Suzie are the Directors of Wave of Life Ministries International. They have two children, Amy and Michael. Tom and Suzie have been serving in full time ministry for over twenty years. They have founded and directed ministries which have sent missionaries to four continents. They have also served as pastors for two congregations. When they share and bring forth the Word of God, they challenge their listeners to totally commit themselves to the Lord and to find their place in the body of Christ. As they have traveled throughout the United States, Great Britain, Europe, Africa, and New Zealand, their message has ministered life to those who have heard it. Tom and Suzie have been used in teaching seminars, retreats, rallies, church services, schools, and T.V. and radio Ministries.

Ray Brooks

Ray received Christ as his Lord in the era of charismatic renewal in the late 60's and early seventies and immediately began reaching out to hippies and drug addicts. In 1971 he closed his real estate company in order to pursue full time ministry. Ray has ministered in churches of all denominations as well as businessmen's groups in many countries around the world. Through his ministry thousands have received an empowering experience through the baptism in the Holy Spirit. Many have been physically, emotionally and spiritually healed as the Lord honors His Word with signs and wonders following. Ray is originally from Montreal, Quebec, Canada. He has been married over fifty years. They have three grown children and five grandchildren.

David Cannistraci

David travels nationally and internationally as a conference speaker, prophetic minister, and an exciting voice to the body of Christ. His consuming passion is to pastor, prepare and plant harvesters around the globe. His first book, 'Apostles and the Emerging Apostolic Movement', a Biblical look at apostleship, published in April 1996, has received worldwide acclaim. To date, it has been translated into four additional languages, and is being used as a textbook at Fuller Theological Seminary. His many articles have also appeared in major Christian publications. His second book, 'God's Vision for your Church', has received worldwide acclaim as well. David earned degrees include a Bachelor of Science from Bethany Bible College, a Master of Divinity from Christian International Graduate School, and a Doctor of Philosophy from California Graduate School of Theology. He and his wife, Kathy reside in Morgan Hill, CA with their two teenage sons, Aaron and Jordan.

Brian and Ysbell Congdon

Brian carries a BA degree in Foreign Languages and Literature: Spanish, with a Minor in studio arts from Whitman College. Brian has traveled widely in 18 countries, including three years residence in Venezuela and one in Spain where he used his passion for language in teaching and translation. Brian recently wrote an article concerning fundamentalism for Ransomed Heart Ministries. His experience and passions include intercultural brokenness, discovering our true identity, sonship, apologetics, healing, the coexistence of heart and mind, and the arts. He is passionate about finding ways for the true gospel, not pop culture, to reach, transform, and lay the foundation for individuals focused on eternity. Brian met his wife, Ysbell, in Venezuela.

Ysbell comes from a family background of great economical hardship, as do most Venezuelan families. She has first hand experience with the miraculous spiritual and financial provision of the Lord. She graduated in 2003 from the Pedagógico de Maracay, Venezuela as an English teacher. She has a great passion for languages and other cultures. For the last three years she has been working as an EFL (English as a Foreign Language) teacher as well as a Spanish teacher for foreigners. Ysbell and Brian translated Mario Bergner's book "Setting Love in Order" into Spanish, titled "Amor Restaurado", which has already been translated into 7 languages. Ysbell enjoys working with people from different nationalities and has learned the power of open communication. She is crazy about Latin dance and music!

Jeffrey Crosby

Jeff graduated from Houghton College with a Bachelor's degree in Biblical Studies, and a Master's of Religious Education from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. He was a youth pastor for five years, and a counselor with troubled youth for five. Jeff is a frequent speaker at churches and retreats, and has significant experience with youth as a camp counselor, basketball coach, and teacher in the public schools. Three years ago he and his wife, Kathy, founded a ministry to promote prayer, unity, and revival in the church, and spiritual awakening in the community. They have a desire to instill a passion for God's ultimate purposes into His people. They live in Sayre, PA with their three daughters, Jessica, 13, Rachel, 11, and Nicole 10.

John Crosby

John is an executive with over 17 years of success in a number of different business environments in which he held leadership roles in sales, operations, and division management. John holds a Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering, with distinction, from Clarkson University and a Masters in Business Administration from Harvard University. John began his career with ALCOA as a manufacturing engineer, moved quickly into a successful sales career, ending his tenure with the company as the youngest regional manager in its history, responsible for all sales and technical support for Latin America. John founded Triumph Entertainment, an entertainment/marketing company which migrates the technologies and concepts of the entertainment business into non-traditional venues. Before Triumph Entertainment, John helped found PeopleWorks, a New Orleans-based "roll-up" in the outsourced human resources industry. In addition to helping raise $30 million in venture capital and conducting due diligence on several acquisitions, John built their sales and marketing organization – winning a 1998 Addy along the way.

Joy Crosby

Having witnessed the battle that business people often wage trying to balance Christian world-views and secular business practices, Joy teaches proven business principles partnered with the over-riding message of God's grace, spiced with His desire for His people to experience prosperity. Joy has a Bachelor's Degree in Business Management from the University of Alaska, Anchorage and has experienced diverse business environments. She brings practical knowledge and business theory to Christ's kingdom, providing Christian business people with a strong foundation on which to build their organizational structure. From her childhood as a "pastor's kid" to her collegiate career, Joy has aimed to bridge the perceived gap between "accepted church ministries" and the business community. One of her overriding passions is to experience a church culture in which business people and the five-fold ministers work hand-in-hand in order to effectively minister to all segments of the Church and society.

Stephen and Rita Crosby

Steve and Rita have ministered in local churches and seminars on four continents, emphasizing the foundational revelation of the Person and Work of Christ in establishing the reality of the New Covenant and Spirit-Life in the local church. They have pioneered and pastored churches in three states. Steve's primary grace is prophetic with a high level apostolic preaching and teaching gift. Rita is anointed for works of power and the ministry of intercession and prayer. Their life experience includes owning and operating small businesses in upstate PA and employment with different Fortune 500 companies in metallurgical engineering, optical waveguide engineering, and customer service. Steve received his undergraduate secular education at Corning Community College in Corning, NY and his BA, MA, and Doctor of Ministry degrees from Christian International School of Theology at Santa Rosa Beach, FL. Rita holds a Bachelor of Theology Degree from Christian Life School of Theology, Columbus, GA. Steve is the author of two books, The Word, the Spirit, and Prophecy and The Silent Killers of Faith: Overcoming Performance-Based Religion and Legalism. The Crosbys have been married for thirty years and have three grown children and five grandchildren.

Gordon and Mary Dalbey

Gordon's first book Healing the Masculine Soul pioneered the Christian men's movement, by calling men to a godly strength--neither the traditional violent, loner male nor the "counterculture" peace-and-love male. His unique focus has stirred men of all ages, races, and position. Gordon's second book, Sons of the Father, portrayed healing for the crippling father-wound in men today. In 1992, he keynoted at the first Promise Keepers conference in Boulder. His most recent book, Fight like a Man, proclaims a New Covenant manhood in the Father's grace and truth--and freedom from the shame of failing to measure up to impossible standards. A former news reporter (Charlotte, NC), Peace Corps Volunteer (Nigeria), high school teacher (San Francisco, Chicago), and pastor (Los Angeles), he holds an M.Div. from Harvard, an M.A. in journalism from Stanford, and a B.A. in mathematics from Duke. Gordon's articles have appeared in a wide variety of magazines and newspapers, including New Man, Focus on the Family, Leadership, The Priest, Los Angeles Times, Single Parent Family, and Reader's Digest. Gordon now divides his ministry time between writing, conference speaking, and a private practice in prayer ministry. He lives in Santa Barbara, California, with his wife and son.

Mary Andrews-Dalbey holds a doctorate in Professional Psychology and a master's degree in Nursing. She has published articles in Christian Parenting Today, Supervisor Nurse, and Behavior Research & Therapy. After an earlier career in pediatric nursing, she founded Hosanna Christian Counseling Center in Santa Monica, Ca. Since then, she has ministered as a Christian psychotherapist, facilitated Christian Twelve Step Recovery groups, implemented church health education programs as a Parish Nurse, and developed a specialty in women's issues. Currently, she's the Program Director of Villa Majella Maternity Home and Crisis Pregnancy Support Services. Together with her husband, author Gordon Dalbey; she has been a speaker at Christian retreats for singles and married couples.

Diane Divett

Diane holds a Bachelors Degree in Education, a Masters of Education in Counseling and a, Ph. D. in counseling and pastoral care from Auckland University. Diane and her husband, Hamish, pioneered and continue to lead, the Christian City Church Auckland, NZ. Together they superintend the Christian City Church movement in New Zealand and Diane is an executive member of Christian City Church International. Diane's first career was in teaching. In recent years she has specialized in counseling and pastoral care and has developed a unique theory and practice of counseling known as "Refocusing Therapy." Diane travels extensively conduct seminars and workshops around the world on relevant topics such as stress, relationships, self-awareness, church vision, and goal setting. Diane and Hamish have two adult children, Lisa and David and a son-in-law, Daniel.

Philip Elston

Philip came to a personal encounter with Jesus sitting in a jail in north Texas. With his marriage nearly coming to an end, the Lord called him to walk uprightly and to begin walking rightly with his wife Glenda. At the same time Glenda was experiencing her own divine encounter. Their marriage was healed and now, 30 years later they know and walk in the power of God to work miracles in the world of "real life." Philip was trained in prophetic ministry in the early days of the Shepherding Movement. After leaving the movement in the early 80's Philip and Glenda experienced an unprecedented prophetic release. In 1985 they started HOPE ministries and the Texoma Food and clothing Bank in Sherman, Texas. The Elston's travel extensively in the Body of Christ bringing a message of the emphasis on the Fatherhood of God.

Arley Enloe

Arley earned a Bible Certificate from Pinecrest Bible Training Center, a B.A. in history and a year of teacher certification from Simpson University, a M.Th., M. Div., and a D. Min. from Christian Life School of Theology and is currently enrolled in D. Min studies through Beacon University. He and his wife, Kristene, have pastored Willow Chapel in South Central Alaska for ten years where they have overseen a transition to cell-based ministry. They have three children: five, seven and nine years old. They are currently focusing on outreach to children in their community of 1600 residence. Both Arley and Kristene have participated in short-term missions to Eastern Europe and enjoy traveling.

Jesse and Amy Giglio

Jesse and Amy serve as the Directors of Schools and Missions for Wave of Life Ministries. They have a heart for reaching and mobilizing the young believers of today and helping them find their place in God's Kingdom. In the last seven years they have led outreach teams to such locations as Fiji, Africa, the Philippines and the Caribbean. Using the tools of surfing, skateboarding and music as the catalyst for their ministry, they have seen lives changed and hearts healed.

Danny Goodall

Danny is an accomplished lead guitarist. He started playing guitar at 14 years old and at 16, started his first band, which was heavily influenced by the blues. They played high schools and did the local club scene. In 1979 Danny moved to Seattle and joined the Seattle power rock band Mercenary. They played rock clubs all around the area, recording and touring the US in 1981 and 1982. In 1983, he relocated to Walla Walla, WA and joined legendary blues man Jimmy Lloyd Rea and the Switchmasters. They played the blues circuit and recorded several CDs until 1990 when he gave up the "road life" and his guitar playing. Danny met the Lord in 1997. He picked up the guitar again with renewed vigor and joined a local church worship team. God has taken his ability to connect with people via guitar and given him a vision to reach people for Him. He has a unique grace of expressing deep personal passion for Jesus through his instrument that is both edifying and spiritually "elevating."

Jeremy Gonzalez

Jeremy has been immersed in media for most of his life. For 10 years Gonzalez worked in Christian radio where he finished as the program director of one of the most unique Christian radio stations in the country, and was called a CHR authority by Radio and Records Magazine. Jeremy felt that being inside the Christian media box was holding him back and he joined a dot-com where he learned the business of online marketing and strategies and developed a product that provided turnkey web solutions for radio stations. Most recently he has added publicist and marketing duties for the New York Times best-selling book The Dark Hills Divide. He was hired by Scholastic books to head up tour management and work publicity for Patrick Carman's 2005 nationwide tour. The book has sold over 400,000 copies. Jeremy also hosts The Weekend 22 radio countdown show airing all across the country in over 120 markets each weekend. Jeremy continues to run his publicity and marketing firm – The Gonzo Effect – and will begin production of a documentary film on minor league baseball in the summer of 2005.

Edward Kurath

The Lord touched Ed in 1990 in a time when he was in great emotional pain. At that time he was introduced into the healing ways of Jesus and it changed his life. Ed possesses a Bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering and worked in industry in his younger years. In 1993, the Lord impressed Ed to sell his insurance business and go back to school. In 1996 he received his MA in Counseling from Denver Seminary. In 1997 he worked with the Elijah House ministry as a counselor. He is a licensed Professional Counselor and Marriage and Family therapist. His unique revelation of "discovering the treasure within" in a counseling context, has impacted thousands around the world with hope, healing, and freedom. He and his wife Kay have four grown children and seven beautiful grandchildren.

Winkie Pratney

Winkie logs 500,000+ miles per year speaking to young people and leaders around the globe. . His technical background in both science and the popular music culture has given him a unique insight to the particular needs of a media dominated technological society and his constant mentoring of youth trends combined with continual feedback from young people themselves has helped him interpret these for those with vital interest in the welfare of the young. Winkie conducts annual leadership training seminars for three decades. Hi primary call is to students, though he occasionally ministers in churches. He has authored more than twelve books, including youth manuals like the best selling Youth Aflame. He and his son, Bill's, newest training work for GenXers, the Daniel Files, and other training materials are available free online via the internet. His scholarship on fire approach has resulted in the conversion of multiplied thousands of teenagers, the creation of powerful new ministries and the continual encouragement of multitudes of young believers and their leadership. Winkie is a New Zealander and maintains a low organizational profile, living in NZ but frequently visiting Australia, Canada, Europe and the USA.

Eddie Ramirez

Eddie Ramirez is a talented musician, songwriter, worship leader and producer. He is also the founder of Zerimar Music, a publishing, recording, and licensing company based in Spokane, WA which facilitates recording projects as well as Spanish lyric translation and song licensing. Eddie began playing bass guitar in a band with his brothers at age 10. They grew up playing music together and eventually went on to tour extensively throughout the United States and Mexico under the names of "Abarim," and "Thee Image." After moving to Spokane, WA in 1991, Eddie began producing records and playing bass for local recording studios. In 1998, he became the director of music at Harvest Christian Fellowship, and is currently the Worship Director and Associate Pastor at The Bridge Church. Eddie continues to travel the U.S. and Mexico regularly as a producer, musician, and worship leader. He and his wife, Keena, reside in Spokane with their four children.

John Santero

John Santero is an assistant Pastor at the desert Vineyard Christian Fellowship in Lancaster, CA. Currently John and his wife Darlene work with young married couples and the premarital counseling ministry. John' primary motivation in ministry id directed toward Generation X and Evangelism. John pastored the god Rock Café, a church for high school youth for approximately 8 years. John's current emphasis is on city wider outreach projects aimed at gathering unchurched people into Christian fellowship. John also works outside the church as a firefighter/paramedic for the Los Angeles county fire department.

Lon Stokes

Lon Stokes has over 22 years ministry experience as a senior pastor and teacher. He and his wife, Teresa, have ministered across the US and in nine nations. Lon has a Bachelor's Degree in finance and economics from the University of Idaho and a Master's Degree in Theology from Christian Life School of Theology. Teresa holds Bachelor's and Masters Degrees in Theology from Christian Life also. In addition to his ministry experience, Lon spent ten years as a Vice President in the banking industry and another nine as Executive Director of a 4,400 acre ranch and home for homeless children. His ministry equips and invests a sense of the Lord's purpose and direction into believers with special grace to activate men and young adults, strengthen human relationships, governmental and marketplace involvement, and leadership development and release. Lon and Teresa currently serve on staff at Christian Life Center in Walla Walla, Washington.

William Suttles

William is the Director of Raleigh Institute of Biblical Studies in Raleigh, North Carolina. Dr. Suttles and his wife, Carolyn, are co-pastors of Tabernacle Christian Worship Center in Raleigh, a church which they founded in 1987. The Suttles also own and operate a full time Christian radio station, WPJL, in Raleigh. Dr. Suttles received a BA in History from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. He has studied at Banks Street School of Education in New York City and at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, California. He has received an M.Div., Th.M., and Ph.D. in Philosophy of Religion from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, NC. William and Carolyn have three adult children.

Scott Webster

Scott is the Leader of Elijah Centre Embassy Atlanta (ECEA) located in Georgia. Along with the Elijah Centre Nexus, located in Trinidad, W.I., ECEA is one of the many Embassies which make up Elijah Centre Global, a global church existing within many nations. Scott is also the Global Director of Congress WBN's Global Prophetic Initiative with responsibility for directing and developing the mandate of the Lord to the C-WBN to pioneer a fresh thrust of prophetic development across the nations of the earth. Scott is married to Kathy, and they have four children.