

How Does Quest Work?

The Quest cycle runs on average, nine months beginning approximately the first of September to the end of May each calendar year. Breaks will occur at Thanksgiving, Christmas/New Year and Easter/spring each year.

Participants must have acceptance notification (see admission policies), necessary finance, employment, and personal accommodations in place no later than August 1 of the year of anticipated enrollment, and need to be "on site" by the first day of the Quest cycle.

Class size will be limited to six individuals or couples, or combination thereof. Couples or single parents with children will be responsible for all childcare related issues. Wave/ESS does not provide childcare services.

The Quest curriculum will consist of core topical studies/reading assignments, regular discussion groups, problem solving sessions, personal ministry sessions (both private and public), outreaches, recreational activities, relational times, dinners, etc. The meeting schedule may include as many as three meetings per week in the evenings.

What does Quest Cost?

$450 per month, plus personal living expenses.

Payments can be made monthly. A 5% discount applies to payment in full, in advance, at the beginning of the term.